The Chronicler

Volume : 16 | Issue : 1 | July 2022-June 2023

Message from the Principal

The Chronicler of our college plays a vital role in documenting and showcasing the academic and co-curricular activities of each academic session. It is a valuable resource that highlights the achievements and milestones of the year. I extend my heartfelt congratulations to Dr. Deepanwita Deka and Dr. Arifa Tabassum, the Editors of this edition, for their exceptional work in compiling this volume of the Chronicler. Their dedication in gathering and organizing a wealth of information, photographs, and documents from a wide range of events and accomplishments is truly commendable. The effort required to present such a comprehensive and detailed record is immense, and the Editors have executed it with great care and precision.

This year has been a landmark one in the history of our college. A significant development was the appointment of Prof. S. Borbora as the President of the College's Governing Body for a five-year term by the Government. This marks a new chapter in the leadership of the college. Other key initiatives this year include the signing of MoUs with 15 different institutions, the organization of a workshop by the Innovation Centre in collaboration with the Ministry of Education and AICTE, and the successful trip of the Botany Department's students to Sikkim. These initiatives have contributed to the overall progress and visibility of the college.

Moreover, many of our students have brought accolades to the college through their outstanding achievements in curricular, co-curricular, and extra-curricular activities. The college also hosted numerous symposiums, lectures, workshops, and seminars throughout the year. Almost every department made significant contributions by publishing work that involved both faculty and students, as well as notable personalities from the state. These efforts have collectively positioned our college as an emerging institution of higher learning in the region.

I am confident that the college will continue to excel in the coming years. Once again, I express my sincere gratitude to the Editors for their hard work in bringing together this impressive compilation, which truly reflects the college's growth and success.

Dr Dharmendra Nath
Principal, S. B. Deorah College
